Call to Apply

Application now open for North Mountain Residency

North Mountain is a residency program that supports creative practices by encouraging research, conversation, and risk-taking. We invite applications from individuals and small collaborative groups.

We are located in the Appalachian mountains of West Virginia, not far from Washington, DC. We provide comfortable studio and living space for 3-week durations. Residents have access to large outdoor wooded & open areas, research assistance, small group critiques & studio visits, and simple bread making skills. While on site, residents are encouraged to engage in the ecologies & cultures of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle.

We acknowledge the inequity that exists in art fields and creative professions. We try our best to extend our resources to people from communities that have been oppressed or marginalized. Visit our website for more details.

3-week residencies offered from May through September 2017

Application deadline: March 1, 2017

Residency operates on a sliding scale fee
